dean's message

On August 26, 2013, we broke ground on Huntsman Hall, our long-awaited new building to supplement the existing George S. Eccles Business Building. Having attended USU when the Eccles Building was just freshly minted, I know what a difference Huntsman Hall, with its 21 classrooms and 21 student meeting rooms, will make for our students.

This literal groundbreaking was complemented by groundbreaking accomplishments by the entire Huntsman School community of students, faculty, staff, alumni, & friends. I hope that as you look through just some of the highlights noted in this annual report, you will see why our credo is President Roosevelt's famous dictum to "dare mighty things."
