

Thomas K. Checketts USU Biography

Tom was born and raised an Aggie in Logan. His father was a professor at USU and he grew up attending sporting, community, art and music events at the University. Tom received a business degree in Production Management and an MBA from USU in 1994. While at USU Tom met and married Lynette Rees from Brigham City, Utah. Together they have eight children. Following graduation Tom taught seminary in Bloomfield, New Mexico. He then went to law school. Upon graduation from law school the family moved to Atlanta, Georgia, where Tom worked for Alston Bird. In 2003, the Checketts moved to Layton, Utah, and Tom worked as a real estate attorney at Kirton McConkie for 20 years. He specialized in eminent domain and impact fee law.

In 2022, Tom left Kirton McConkie and founded Checketts Development. Checketts Development that now has assets in seven states.