

Huntsman Scholars Program Roadmap

Please note that scholar sections of 1000-2000 level acumen courses and the leadership lab will be offered beginning with academic year 2017-2018. The full program will be offered beginning with academic year 2018-2019. We are currently exploring the addition of the innovation lab and the global lab for academic year 2017-2018.

Please note that the below program design is a sample. Your choice of major and other extracurricular choices will impact your program design.

Leadership Lab

The 1st year leadership lab is a formative leadership development experience for students in the Huntsman Scholar Program. During this lab, through experiential activities and thought-provoking challenges, students will develop greater self-awareness, begin to discover their leadership identity, and increase their interpersonal and teaming skills. Students will also learn about leadership directly from CEOs and senior leaders.

Analytical Rigor Lab

The culminating lab of the Huntsman Scholar Program will build on the coursework and labs to provide students ways to take in and understand vast amounts of information, analyze risks and opportunities, and arrive at reasoned decisions through critical thinking and the ability to see problems through multiple lenses.

Global Vision Lab

An idea developed in Utah turns into a product made in Asia that is promoted through a website hosted in Europe, for customers around the world. Students in the 3rd year global lab will learn about the global business environment through classroom discussions and an international experience. The year 3 Global Lab will include an 8-10 day international trip. While the lab may include up to 50 students, the trips will comprise approximately 20 students plus faculty. Trips will be offered during multiple times of the year, including at the end of Fall and Spring semesters and during Spring Break. The cost of the trip will be covered by the program.

Entrepreneurial Spirit Lab

Whether you want to work in a large organization, found your own business, or you haven't yet found what you're looking for, the one constant in life is change. The 2nd year innovation lab promotes an entrepreneurial spirit and being open to opportunity, so that you can create the life you have always dreamed of living. Through classroom discussions, team activities, and learning from life innovators, students will learn to identify and strengthen behaviors and skills that promote personal and professional adaptability and innovation.
